

Al-Falah Islamic School | Code of Conduct 2024-2025

Respected Parent/Guardian,

Assalāmu ‘Alaikum wa Rahmatullāhi wa Barakātuh

All praise is to Allāh Ta’ālā who has blessed us with Islām and Imān. May peace and salutations be in abundance upon our beloved Nabī ﷺ.

Allāh Ta’ālā declares in the Holy Qur’ān: "Oh you who believe! Save yourself and your family from the fire of Jahannam, whose fuel is mankind and stones!"

In a ḥādīth Nabī ﷺ has said, "Each of you is a shepherd and you will be questioned regarding your flock."

From the above, it is deduced that we, as parents, have been entrusted with a very important responsibility towards our children. Allāh Ta’ālā has gifted them to us as a trust. It is our duty to fulfil this trust to the best of our ability, otherwise Almighty Allāh Ta’ālā will take us to task in the Hereafter.

The most important need of our children is proper upbringing and sound Islamic knowledge. Nabī ﷺ has said, "The seeking of knowledge is Farḍ (compulsory) on every Muslim." The knowledge of Dīn will protect their Imān in the temporary life of this world and will save them from the fire of Jahannam in the hereafter.

It is only through the knowledge of Dīn that our children will be obedient to us, respect us and take care of us when we need them the most. If we neglect imparting Islāmic education to our children, we as parents will suffer the consequences the most.

In order to provide our children with good Islāmic education and to give them a strong and firm basis for their Islāmic development, some rules and guidelines have been formulated. This will greatly assist us to improve the discipline and level of education in the Weekend School, inshā'allāh.

2. In the interest of your child, the authorities will NOT welcome absenteeism or late coming on the grounds of sporting activities, extracurricular activities or similar excuses during Evening or Saturday School hours.

3. If due to serious illness or unforeseen circumstances your child will not attend Weekend School, please contact the respective teacher explaining the cause of absence. Please avoid making any appointments or planning any journeys during Evening or Saturday School hours.
